sosa siliezar investigates the presence and significance of creation imagery in the gospel of john he argues that john has intentionally included only a limited albeit significant number of instances of creation imagery and that he has positioned them carefully to highlight their significance sosa siliezar contends that the instances of creation imagery used in varying contexts function collectively in a threefold way that is consonant with john s overall argument first john uses them to portray jesus in close relationship with his father existing apart from and prior to the created order second john uses creation imagery to assert the primal and universal significance of jesus and the message about him and to privilege him over other important figures in the story of israel third john uses creation imagery to link past reality with present and future reality portraying jesus as the agent of creation whom the reader should regard as the primal agent of revelation and salvation the book concludes by underscoring how these findings inform our understanding of john s christology and johannine dualism
