corruption is one of the major challenges impeding africa s growth and development efforts and its impact is much more pronounced at this point of the continent s development trajectory corruption has political economic and social consequences and this book argues that any efforts to help africa grow and develop must prioritise the fight against it so that the aid and funding given for projects in the region can continue to be sustained the book also tackles the issue of national security and instability caused by corruption the author argues that progress cannot happen in countries and environments where instability exists and persists corruption in africa has contributed to instability and other national security challenges especially in fragile states on the continent the book starts by looking at the three major types of corruption petty grand and systemic and then goes on to address the different categories of corruption such as bureaucratic legislative political as well as public and private sector aspects it also deals with common forms of corruption as well as some of the causes such as bad governance and excessive greed to mention a few further it critically examines how current political systems on the continent contribute to this condition the book argues that some of the solutions that have been proposed to date are not viable or have not worked in practice and through applied research offers workable solutions that policy makers african politicians academics and students of economics and development can use as a reference guide in the fight against corruption originally published in 1978 the process of question answering examines a phenomenon that relies on many realms of human cognition language comprehension memory retrieval and language generation problems in computational question answering assume a new perspective when question answering is viewed as a problem in natural language processing a theory of human question answering must necessarily entail a theory of human memory organization and theories of the cognitive processes that access and manipulate information in memory this book describes question answering as a particular task in information processing the theoretical models described here have been built on a formulation of general theories in natural language processing theories about language that were developed without the specific problem of question answering in mind by requiring programmers to be concerned with the precise form of information in memory and the precise operations manipulating that information they can uncover significant problems that would otherwise be overlooked an early insight into artificial intelligence today this reissue can be enjoyed in its historical context
