using the parable of the prodigal son sr theresa noble a formerly fallen away catholic gently covers the necessary elements of approaching those who have left the church she encourages you to meet them where they are while emphasizing the importance of the faith with her gentle encouragement she will lead you to continue to hope for their conversion so that you might share the joy of the father when the prodigal you love returns home shortlisted for the premio valle inclán award for spanish translation 2020 in his poems darío jaramillo relentlessly interrogates time ecstatically celebrates life lived and mourns its transience this is the first substantial sampling in english of colombia s greatest living poet and it draws on five decades work time has been jaramillo s key theme all the more urgently so as he grows older impossible and lost loves provide another theme as do the effects of violence done to the body absences and disappearances are part of the mix all underpinned by nostalgia for an idealised rural childhood most of the poems lack a specific geography though others shift between bogotá where the poet lives the tropical antioquia of his childhood and a nameless place peopled by the ghosts of dead friends jaramillo also takes time to interrogate the humble mango the rubber tree the domestic cat paradox lies at the core of his work an only child the poet s brothers are often wild chaotic characters given to excess and self destructive behaviour i like to hallucinate in words he said when he won the national poetry award in 2017 the book includes a full afterword by the award winning poet and writer richard gwyn translator of the celebrated anthology the other tiger recent poetry from latin america 2016 this is a dual language edition this book aims at contributing to the scientific and academic discourse as regards to the what and why of youth ministry too often youth ministry has been approached from a mainly practical point of view almost asking how we keep young people off the streets its methodology has often not included the theological and theoretical presuppositions that lie behind this ministry previous scientific reflection has been determined by a one dimensional and almost exclusive point of view in comparison with existing literature this book does not focus so much on the how of youth ministry it innovates a different approach the book challenges the existing exclusive approach and develops an inclusive congregational and missional understanding of and approach to youth ministry from a particular perspective on the understanding the main objectives of practical theology the author endorses the so called movement of what is supposed to be going on he adds the outcome of an empirical round table discussion with some 16 leaders in this field on the descriptive and interpretive movements within the subject field what is going on and why is it going on the book will form the standard for any new research with regard to youth ministry the book s contribution lies on the level of sound theological reasoning and argumentation supported by many scholars for an inclusive congregational understanding of ministry as an integral part of every congregation being missional in being and doing youth children adolescents and emerging adults are just as integral a part of every congregation within which they live and serve the author s starting point is the interweaving of forgiveness and resentment in the works of jewish writers after the holocaust most especially hannah arendt and jean améry to make sense of the catastrophe and to point to a way forward for both victims and perpetrators the insights of these two writers and of several jewish novelists and poets including bruno schulz paul celan and aharon appelfeld are used to develop accounts of forgiveness and resentment in other cases of mass atrocity around the world the author offers a critical rereading of primary sources that aim to separate resentment from nonviolent resistance and forgiveness from reconciliation forgiveness and resentment are not as they might first appear mutually exclusive together with arendt améry and walter benjamin it is argued that it is through the interaction between them that victims of mass atrocity become agents of personal and cultural change together forgiveness and resentment interrupt the present reframe the past and shape the future they can reduce the chasm that separates memory and trust by fashioning new connections between identity and alterity which can open paths to truly ethical coexistence for victims and perpetrators and their descendants
