a gathering of luminescent stories that illustrates how fraught and contingent the simplest of lives can be and the often unexpected means available to each of us for our own salvation addictive a delicious mix of sexual reawakening and moral entanglement telegraph a gifted storyteller with an unusual hypnotic voice truly original it casts a spell that lingers in your mind daily mail this is a novel about a woman about a mother about a marriage about a murder in the brightly lit public pool the killer swims and watches amongst the mothers cheering on their swim team daughters is annie watching her two girls race she s thinking of other things her husband s emotional distance her lost brother the man she s drawn to then she learns a terrible secret now her everyday cares and concerns seem meaningless annie knows she has to act above all she must protect her children compulsively readable it takes readers on a journey where none could guess the final outcome from yannick murphy award winning author of the call comes a fast paced story of murder adultery parenthood and romance involving a girls swim team their morally flawed parents and a killer who swims in their midst in a quiet new england community members of swim team and their dedicated parents are preparing for a home meet the most that annie a swim mom of two girls has to worry about is whether or not she fed her daughters enough carbs the night before why her husband thomas hasn t kissed her in ages and why she can t get over the loss of her brother who shot himself a few years ago but annie s world is about to change from the bleachers looking down at the swimmers a dark haired man watches a girl no one notices him annie is busy getting to know paul who flirts with annie despite the fact that he s married to her friend chris and despite annie s greying hair and crow s feet chris is busy trying to discover whether or not paul is really having an affair and the swimmers are trying to shave milliseconds off their race times by squeezing themselves into skin tight bathing suits and visualizing themselves winning their races when a girl on the team is murdered at a nearby highway rest stop the same rest stop where paul made a gruesome discovery years ago the parents suddenly find themselves adrift paul turns to annie for comfort annie finds herself falling in love chris becomes obsessed with unmasking the killer with a serial killer now too close for comfort annie and her fellow swim parents must make choices about where their loyalties lie as a series of startling events unfold annie discovers what it means to follow your intuition even if love as well as lives could be lost yannick murphy while being one of our most daring and original writers is first and foremost an exquisitely attuned observer of human behavior murphy s work provides pretty much unexceeded reading pleasure dave eggert the warm wry and patient voice of a veterinarian father tells the heartfelt story of his young new england family enduring a moving trial of loyalty hope and faith after they are confronted with an unthinkable crisis acclaimed author yannick murphy s intimate narrative style and lovely prose will enthrall readers of rivka galchen padgett powell and murphy s own signed mata hari the call is a triumph of quiet humor and understated beauty publishers in her haunting first novel yannick murphy surveys the landscape of imperialism through the unflinching gaze of an adolescent girl set in indochina in the 1940s well before american intervention in the territory that is now vietnam it is narrated by the clear eyed tian daughter of a french mother and chinese father who is taken prisoner when the japanese invade shanghai the camp is a nightmarish place where horror sometimes slips surrealistically into comedy as the prisoners watch for liberators to cross the sea of trees that separates them from freedom here it is women who become tian's first allies especially her passionate young mother and wily amah who instill pluck pragmatism and an unbending will to survive in a voice that rings with the startling frankness of youth the sea of trees combines imagery both raw and beautiful based on stories from the author's own family history and laced with chinese folklore it adds a distinctly female contour to the map of empi this is a wide ranging book about aspects of the gothic from classic texts such as frankenstein and wuthering heights to contemporary fiction by iain banks william gibson and many others it approaches the texts through looking at the opposition between the gothic and the law suggesting ways in which gothic at all points produces transgression it looks at horror fiction by for example stephen king and robert bloch as well as stories from china and hong kong and suggests new ways in which contemporary literary and psychological theory might relate to and address the gothic this companion offers students and scholars a comprehensive introduction to the development and the diversity of the american short story as a literary form from its origins in the eighteenth century to the present day rather than define what the short story is as a genre or defend its importance in comparison with the novel this companion seeks to understand what the short story does how it moves through national space how it is always related to other genres and media and how its inherent mobility responds to the literary marketplace and resonates with key critical themes in contemporary literary studies the chapters offer authoritative introductions and reinterpretations of a literary form that has re-emerged as a major force in the twenty first century public sphere dominated by the internet
