this book explores the role museums play in shaping the cultural and historical identities of central asia through an analysis of around 50 museums this book offers insights into how these memory machines contribute to contemporary identity formation in central asia serving as both cultural guardians and storytellers it traces the development of these institutions from the russian colonial era to the present examining how they have navigated the region s complex socio political landscape the book addresses various themes such as the influence of soviet policies on museum development the relationship between religion and atheism in museum narratives and the renewed interest in pre soviet cultural heritage it also considers how museums utilise historical figures and scientific achievements to craft national stories exploring identity through the dual perspectives of settled and nomadic lifestyles

the author shows how museum culture offers a unique vantage point on the 19th and 20th centuries preoccupation with history and subjectivity and demonstrates how the constitution of the aesthetic provides insight into the realms of technology industrial culture architecture and ethics many former mining areas have now lost their industrial function and are now turning to tourism for regional revitalization and community economic development the transformation process of these industrial and in some cases derelict mining sites and landscapes into an area of interest for tourists is a major challenge both for planners and for tourism managers it involves complex consideration to both the preservation of the physical site and community mining heritages as well as the health safety and environmental factors inherent in opening these vast sites to the public mining heritage and tourism includes contributions from internationally recognized authorities and is the first book to focus on the issues challenges and potentials in redeveloping mines as cultural heritage attractions which are explored thematically throughout the book it draws on multidisciplinary research to consider the dichotomy between heritage preservation and tourist development goals for mining heritage sites as well as to explore the practical challenges of developing these sites these themes are illustrated by case studies from a vast range of geographical locations around the globe to offer operational insights into the planning and management of these sites for both heritage and tourism purposes as well as innovative site management techniques there has never before been a more comprehensive book on mining heritage tourism representing the latest developments in strategy policy and practices this book serves as an invaluable guide for students researchers academics and practitioners in the areas of tourism and heritage management louise nevelson one of the most important american sculptors of the twentieth century was a beautiful woman who lived so audacious a life that by the time of her death she was a legend both inside and outside the art world born leah berliawsky in czarist russia in 1899 she grew up in maine ostracized as a jew and a foreigner at twenty she escaped to manhattan as mrs charles nevelson eventually leaving her husband for a life devoted to art she lived and loved with lusty abandon often in poverty and obscurity until she finally achieved fame and fortune at sixty this biography of a monstre sacre is a tale of hard tacks heroism and heedless swipes at those who dared to love her said interview magazine nevelson found inspiration in cubism primitive art and her own unconscious creating a rich iconography of images with black white or gold paint and perfect placement she transformed old pieces of wood picked up on the street into powerful sculptures in later years she appeared in mink eyelashes and flamboyant costumes all the while going to her studio every day before dawn to add to the astonishing body of work now in collections of museums around the world laurie lisle interviewed nevelson before the artist s death in 1988 as well as her lovers family members artist friends and many others this biography provides fascinating insights and information discovered in archives and public records letters and diaries and the artist's own prose and poetry now in a revised e book edition louise nevelson a passionate life is the only biography of this important american sculptor it is impressive in its thoroughness which nonetheless results in good reading by virtue of its interweaving of personal and professional information its eclectic introduction of psychological analysis and a phraseology that appreciates both the pain and the joy surrounding nevelson's eccentric behavior according to woman's art journal national museums and the origins of nations provides the first international survey of origins stories in national museums and examines the ways in which such museums use the distant past as a vehicle to reflect the concerns of the political present offering an international comparison of institutions in china north and south america the middle east europe and australia the book argues that national museums tell us more about what sort of community a nation wishes to be today than how and why that nation came into being watson also reveals the ways in which narrative and exhibition design attempt to engage the visitor in an emotional experience designed to promote loyalty to and pride in the nation or to remind visitors who are not citizens that they do not belong these narratives of origin are it is claimed based on so called factual accuracies but this book reveals that they are often selective emotional and rarely critiqued within institutions at a time when nationalism is very much back on the political agenda this book highlights how museums reflect current political and social concerns national museums and the origins of nations will appeal to academics and students engaged in the study of museums heritage politics nationalism and history
