a view from the pew is a compilation of bible mysteries that the author was compelled to research and interpret himself with the aid of the holy spirit due to his mistrust in individual church doctrines personalities and their misguided bible interpretations the reader will discover everything the bible really says about the tribulation what truly was the thorn that tormented paul the true name of god the exact location of the kingdom of god and many other topics not normally discussed in church a view from the pew comprises over forty individual bible topic studies written by a spirit filled recovered alcoholic and drug addict with thirty two years of sobriety after reading a view from the pew and applying the principles held within it is the sincere hope of the author that you find the power within yourself that he found which allowed him to walk away from cigarettes drugs and alcohol the author was forced into early retirement and was told he had three to five years to live in 2003 thirteen years later after two strokes two heart attacks and then being diagnosed with diabetes steven has found a useable power that heals guides and protects his life to this very day a view from the pew is written from the skeptical viewpoint of a member of the congregation and not a seminary student or doctor of theology to the author it is not true unless you can show him bible and verse your burning questions about prophecy does god test man and is america found in the bible will be shown to you in a view from a pew in human presence erickson offers a thoughtful study of some fundamental features of human nature central to a theoretical and therapeutic understanding of human existence though the language employed is largely philosophical interfaces with psychoanalysis and religion are made in order to stimulate dialogue that reaches beyond the traditional boundaries of discipline it is toward more such dialogue that human presence serves as preparation the author provides a probing contrast between traditional psychoanalysis and existential conceptions of time consciousness and he articulates the issues involved in experience or lived time in their centrality to human self understanding the author suggests how both conceptions the existential and the psychoanalytic enlarge yet limit awareness and insight in a revealing way human presence raises deep and unavoidable issues regarding the human in us all stephen a erickson is professor of philosophy pomona college and claremont graduate school and is a guest faculty member of the southern california psychoanalytic institute a view to a death in the morning shows us how hunting has figured in the western imagination from the myth of artemis to the tale of bambi this book will captivate readers on every side of the dilemma from the most avid hunters to their most vehement opponents to those who simply wonder about the importance of hunting in human nature
