in this socio-historical study jin hwan lee offers fresh insights on social aspects of communal banqueting practice in early christ groups particularly in corinth with an emphasis on banqueting practice in greco-roman private associations he attempts to understand social conflicts at communal gatherings of the christ group in corinth his research on the social dynamics of banquet meetings in associations is thorough fresh and even striking readers will be amply rewarded by new ideas to this field making use of a wide range of ancient literature and epigraphical and papyrological sources from associations lee helps recover the real issues that the christ group members encountered at their communal meal described in 1 cor 11:17-34 boldly claiming that current scholarly approaches to these issues at the corinthian christ group communal meal are anachronistic lee provides a new paradigm for thinking about early christ movement meals and by and large early christ movements in the first and second centuries a.d.

this is the first of three volumes detailing the history of the fleet air arm the royal navy's aircraft carriers and naval air squadrons during the second world war it deals with the formative period between 1939 and 1941 when the fleet air arm tried to recover from the impact of dual control and economic stringencies during the inter war period while conducting a wide range of operations there is in depth coverage of significant operations including the norwegian campaign mediterranean actions such as the attack on the italian fleet at taranto and the battle of cape matapan and the torpedo attacks on the german battleship bismarck incidents involving the loss of and damage to aircraft carriers including the sinking of ark royal one of the most famous ships in the early years of world war two are also reported of major importance are key planning and policy issues these include the requirements for aircraft carriers the evolving debate regarding the necessary types of aircraft and attempts to provide sufficient facilities ashore for naval air squadrons a wide range of official documents are used to enable the reader to appreciate the complexity of the operations and other issues which faced the fleet air arm this volume will appeal to everyone interested in how the royal navy adapted to the use of air power in the second world war its reports bring actions vividly to life its correspondence demonstrates the fundamental foundation of planning policy and logistics in common with succeeding volumes on the fleet air arm this volume provides a new and vital perspective on how britain fought the second world war this study gives substantial coverage and close critical attention to a wide range of coetzee s published writings in the attempt to situate his oeuvre within the framework of both postmodernist and postcolonial theory and criticism in addition it links the political and social aspects of coetzee s work its south african provenance and its often oblique engagement with contemporary issues with formal questions regarding structure rhetoric and narrative strategies as tackled in his novels by approaching coetzee s fiction from a variety of critical angles and taking into account both the transformations in the socio political context of south africa and the recent changes in critical reception exemplified by the nobel prize he was awarded in 2003 this book therefore offers a thorough assessment of the author s oeuvre post first world war the mediterranean fleet found itself in the eastern mediterranean the sea of marmora the black sea and the adriatic the collapse of the ottoman russian and habsburg empires created a vacuum of power in which different factions struggled for control in the black sea this involved the royal navy in intervention in 1919 and 1920 on the side of russians fighting the bolsheviks by 1920 the allies were also faced with the challenge of the turkish nationalists as well as these events those that comprise the final section show the mediterranean fleet preparing for a major war applying the lessons of world war one and studying how to make use of new weapons aircraft carriers and aircraft this seventh volume of naval miscellany contains documents which range in date from the late thirteenth century to the korean war they illustrate the many different ways in which the naval forces of the crown have served the realm topics covered include the role of ships in campaigns against scotland under edward i and edward vi the protection of the iceland fishery in the days of the commonwealth government and the operation of prize courts during the wars against france in the eighteenth century moving on to the nineteenth century the supply of timber to the royal navy is examined while two contributions deal with surveying off the west coast of africa and another prints a diary kept by a member of the naval brigade operating onshore in the zulu war the most recent contributions deal with the origins and development of the royal australasian navy up to the 1950s two more controversial subjects are also included the first gives more information about the storage of cordite on battle cruisers in 1916 and the battle of jutland the second documents the relief of admiral north from gibraltar in 1940 there is something here for every enthusiast for naval history and for all students of the relevant periods
