sgn the tnmaWS tamil nadu municipal administration and water supply department town planning officer assistant engineer planning exam town planning subject practice sets covers objective questions with answers india comprises one sixth of the world s population and one third of the global burden of undernutrition between 2006 and 2016 india made progress in reducing stunting among children below five years the progress however has not been uniform across all its states menon et al 2018 there are interstate differences in stunting reduction despite a common national policy framework for nutrition specific and nutrition sensitive programs given the paucity of insights on what factors drive successful change in nutritional outcomes such as stunting at the state level in india we conducted studies in the four states of chhattisgarh gujarat odisha and tamil nadu in this report we document the story of change in tamil nadu which is one of the exemplary states in india with a long history of nutrition and health reforms it stands out as a leader in social development we aimed to update prior work on tamil nadu to assess more recent changes in nutritional outcomes determinants and coverage of interventions our key goals were to 1 examine changes in child stunting known determinants of stunting and key health and nutrition interventions between 1992 and 2016 2 assess the contribution of diverse determinants and intervention coverage changes to the changes in stunting between 2006 and 2016 and 3 interpret the changes in the context of policies programs and other changes in the state the purpose of this policy note is to examine the trends in undernutrition in tamil nadu and to document trends in the major determinants of nutrition and the coverage of key nutrition and health interventions in doing this analysis we aim to highlight key areas for actions to improve nutrition in tamil nadu about the book this much feted book returns in a striking all new cover a nuanced and much needed report from the ground on tamil nadu and indeed india s endangered livelihoods in a rapidly urbanising nation rural india is being erased from the popular imagination through her five years of travelling across the villages of tamil nadu aparna karthikeyan gets to know men and women who do exceptional yet perfectly ordinary things to earn a living she documents through ten of these stories the transformations aspirations and disruptions of the last twenty five years the people she meets force these questions of her and her reader what is the culture we seek to preserve what will become of food security without farmers how can development exclude 833 million people including interviews with journalist p sainath musician t m krishna and writer bama among others nine rupees an hour is a critical portrayal of the drastic and systematic erosion of traditional livelihoods these engaging narratives unravel a peoples perspective of work and life where creative beauty and human dignity merge to matter even if their worth in market obsessed economics is merely nine rupees an hour evocative and relevant they jostle our comfort statistics and economic analyses of wages and work juxtaposed with the lives people lead help us understand the situation on the ground a book all of us must read aruna roy social activist sustainable livelihoods provide the foundation for a happy life we owe a deep sense of gratitude to aparna karthikeyan for bringing out this useful book based on real life examples i hope the book will be widely read m s swaminathan plant geneticist and agricultural scientist this book aims to expand the theoretical framework of and counter the eurocentric narratives in language policy research by comparing policies of eu and india and demonstrating the importance of taking a comparative perspective while studying language policies this book challenges the notion of macro level power in language policy research and offers evidence that in democratic frameworks macro level power is not absolute it is not uniform across policy domains but rather susceptible to pressure especially in the domains of healthcare and social welfare this book makes three important contributions to the theory of language policy by arguing for the need to reconceptualise macro level power proposing categories of differentiation as a new analytical tool for policy research demonstrating that socio political changes are reflected at the textual level this book is of interest to researchers working on language policies and those investigating language related legislation across different policy domains to practitioners and policymakers in language policy as well as to graduate students conducting comparative policy research this is a much valued and timely book making a strong case for the subject of language policy across europe and india the large comparative case studies of four distinctive states across europe and india in a simple descriptive mode makes the reading of this book enjoyable the domains of administration legislation healthcare and social welfare are undoubtedly novel ways to deal within the concept of language policy in a wider sense the author uses discourse analysis to bring out the relationship between intention explanation and interpretation of a phenomenon like language policy and its implementation the social diversity as expressed in linguistic mapping is well captured in the novel idea of categories of differentiation both as a normative methodological tool and its historical empirical manifestation asha sarangi jawaharlal nehru university new delhi this book critically discusses the vulnerabilities and local adaptation actions of the traditional marine fishers of the tsunami hit coastal regions of south india to climate change and risks with an emphasis on their local institutions thereby it offers a comprehensive account of the ways in which marine fishers live and respond to climate change the coromandel coastal regions of south india are known for their rich sociocultural history and enormous marine resources as well as their long history of vulnerability to climate change and disasters including the 2004 tsunami by drawing cases from the tsunami hit fishing villages of this coast this book demonstrates that indigenous knowledge systems climate change perceptions sociocultural norms and governance systems of the fishers influence and contest the local adaptation responses to climate change by foregrounding the real picture of vulnerability and adaptation actions of marine fishers in the face of climate change and disasters this book also challenges the conventional understanding of local institutions and fishers knowledge systems underlining that adaptation to climate change is a sociopolitical process this book explores the potentials limits and complexities of local adaptation actions of marine fishers of this coast and offers novel insights and climate change lessons gleaned from the field to other coasts of india and around the world this book will be of great interest to students scholars and policymakers in climate change fisheries environmental sociology environmental anthropology sustainable livelihoods and natural resource management
