aunque el tema josefino por nimio que a primera vista aparezca es suficiente para una extensa antología en esta obra no se pretende antologizar las obras de los poetas españoles como tampoco era una antología la mariología poética española que con la presente obra se complementa el empeño cae dentro de la literatura comprometida en el sentido que la palabra tiene primordialmente destacar a los poetas que cantaron a san José se trata de analizar el aspecto josefino de los poetas que se recogen y descubrir la veta teológica que en ellos viene entrañada en definitiva buscar sobre la vida de san José que cantan los poetas el pensamiento teológico que sistematizado puede tenerse como una josefología más que embrionaria

the making of christian communities sheds light on one of the most crucial periods in the development of the christian faith it considers the development and spread of christianity between late antiquity and the middle ages and includes analysis of the formation and development of christian communities in a variety of arenas ranging from late roman cappadocia and constantinople to the court of charlemagne and the twelfth century province of rheims france during the twelfth century this work examines pierre d'ailly's 1351-1420 views on bishops, theologians and canon lawyers not primarily in their conciliar context but within the broader dimensions of their individual status, office and authority within the church. these views also unfold in varying degrees within the apocalyptic context of his thought and result in a call for both pastoral and personal reform, especially for the episcopacy. this call moreover reveals strong apostolic and evangelical influences, especially those of the franciscans and the brethren of the common life and adds a distinctive dimension to the wide variety of late medieval reform ideologies which while having some influence at the council of Konstanz contributed heavily to the reform decrees of Trent.
