one of the thorniest problems in theological study is the relationship between biblical studies on the one hand and constructive theology on the other theologians know that the bible is the core source document for theological construction and hence that they must be in conversation with the best in critical study of scripture for many biblical scholars the point of what they do is to help the biblical text speak to today's church and world and hence they would do well to be in conversation with contemporary theology yet too often the two groups fail to engage each other's work in significant and productive ways the purpose of the library of biblical theology and this introductory volume to it is to bring the worlds of biblical scholarship and constructive theology together it will do so by reviving biblical theology as a discipline that describes the faith of the biblical periods on the one hand and on the other hand articulates normative understandings of modern faith and practice in this volume the authors begin by providing an overview of the history and possible future of biblical theology they introduce biblical theology as a fundamentally contrastive discipline one that is neither dogmatic theology seeking to explain the official teachings of a particular christian tradition nor is it a purely historical approach to scripture eschewing questions of the bible s contemporary message and meaning rather biblical theology takes seriously both the need to understand the message of scripture in its particular historical context and the need to address that message to questions that confront contemporary human life this work is a collection of twenty five papers that i have personally written they consist of themes which were actually suggested assigned and moderated by seasoned professors and biblical scholars in various aspects of biblical theology although in some cases i have modified the themes yet i tried as much as possible to remain focused on the objectives of the papers one very interesting point to note is the treatment of most of these themes basically from the biblical perspective this is mostly with regards to themes drawn from courses which are not strictly scriptural courses but rather are more of theological courses which nonetheless form an integral part of the study of biblical theology so in addition to the core scriptural courses i have featured themes from fundamental theology ecclesiology and eschatology sacramental and liturgical theology trinitarian theology etcetera also it suffices to note that this work is not a commentary on the bible nor is it a comprehensive approach to all the courses in biblical theology rather it is a treatment of some important provocative and challenging themes scholars or students encounter in the course of their study of biblical theology this is simply meant to give one an idea of how these themes together shape biblical theology and most importantly how to approach some of these themes i hope you will find them very helpful and interesting
