From a profoundly influential social theorist comes a posthumously published analysis of the deepest level of crisis in our culture a compelling diagnosis of our condition the Wall Street Journal according to Rieff the contemporary notion of charisma the personal magnetism of political leaders or movie stars is a tragic misunderstanding of a profoundly important concept charisma originally meant religious grace and authority transferred through divine inspiration before it evolved into little more than a form of celebrity stripped of moral considerations Rieff argues that without morality the gift of grace becomes indistinguishable from the gift of evil and devolves into a license to destroy in the name of faith or ideology offering brilliant interpretations of Kierkegaard Weber Kafka Nietzsche and Freud Rieff shows how certain thinkers attacked the very possibility of faith and genuine charisma and helped prepare the way for a therapeutic culture in which it is impossible to recognize anything as sacred the levitical day of atonement was a day of penitence confession and judgment for israelites of loyal character and a day of covenant renewal for the nation of israel on this day sin was removed from the tabernacle through the application of sacrificial blood to its altars and compartments as well as by the dismissal of the goat for azazel which carried all the community's sin to a barren land as it became ingrained in the veil of jewish consciousness the day of atonement underwent a process of abstraction over many centuries leading up to second temple times when the most holy place lay devoid of the ark of the covenant and its mercy seat continuing to reverberate in the jewish imaginaire the day of atonement was received by the authors of the new testament including john of patmos to whom its sacrificial typology provided irresistible motifs which they used to proclaim the christ event by utilizing a coherent intertextual approach this book explores how john wove the day of atonement into the colorful literary tapestry of revelation
