studying the relation of architecture to society this book explains the manner in which the discipline of architecture adjusted itself in order to satisfy new pressures by society consequently it offers an understanding of contemporary conditions and phenomena ranging from the ubiquity of landmark buildings to the celebrity status of architects it concerns the period spanning from 1966 to the first years of the current century a period which saw radical change in economy politics and culture and a period in which architecture radically transformed substituting the alleged dreariness of modernism with spectacle lara schrijver examines the work of oswald mathias ungers and rem koolhaas as intellectual legacy of the 1970s for architecture today particularly in the united states this period focused on the autonomy of architecture as a correction to the social orientation of the 1960s yet these two architects pioneered a more situated autonomy initiating an intellectual discourse on architecture that was inherently design based their work provides room for interpreting social conditions and disciplinary formal developments thus constructing a plausible relationship between the two that allows the life within to flourish and adapt in doing so they provide a foundation for recalibrating architecture today a concentrated study of the relationships between modernism and transformative left utopianism this volume provides an introduction to marx and marxism for modernists and an introduction to modernism for marxists its guiding hypothesis is that marx s writing absorbed the lessons of artistic and cultural modernity as much as his legacy concretely shaped modernism across multiple media from 1970 1990 architecture experienced a revision as part of the post modern movement the critical attitude to the functionalistic moderne style and the influence of semiotics and philosophical trends such as phenomenology on architectural theory led to an increased interest in its history expression perception and context in addition architectural heritage and the care of architectural monuments gained importance this development also increasingly challenged the ideologically based division between east and west instead of emphasizing the differences the search was for a joint cultural heritage the contributions in this volume question terms such as moderne and post

this book critically examines the philosophy of the term transgression and how it shapes the utopian vision of contemporary urban design scenarios the aim of this book is to provide scholarly yet accessible graphic novel illustrations to inform narratives of urban manifestos through four select case studies from the uk cyprus and germany the book highlights the paradoxes and contradictions in architecture and provides detailed evaluation of the limits and contemporary forms of sustainable urban regeneration the book proposes an utopian urban vision approach to social political and cultural relations trends and tensions both locally and globally and seeks to inspire an awakening in architectural discourse the book argues that the philosophical undermining of transgression is the result of a phenomenon from a different perspective its philosophical background social construction experimental research process and design implications on the city as such the book provides a critical examination of how architectural design interventions contribute to sustainable urban regeneration and gentrification and can impact local communities this book provides a significant contribution to both undergraduate and postgraduate students as well as early career researchers working in architecture planning and sustainable urban design it offers effective guidance on adopting the state of the art graphical illustrations into their own design projects while considering contradictions between architectural discourse and the philosophy of transgression the situationist international si led by the revolutionary guy debord were active throughout the 1950s and 60s they published the journal internationale situationniste that included many incendiary texts on politics and art and were a galvanizing force in the revolutions of may 1968 the importance of their work has been felt particularly in their revolutionary analysis of cities the si were responsible for utopian imaginings of the city where its alienating effects from its routine use as a site of consumption and work were banished and it was instead to be turned into a place of play tom mcdonough collects all the si s key work in this area for an essential one stop collection including such essential works as the theory of the derive formulary for a new urbanism and many previously untranslated texts the book will also be strikingly illustrated by the images that were core to the situationist project rosemary wakeman provides a sweeping history of new towns those created by fiat rather than out of geographic or economic logic and often intended to break with the tendencies of past development heralded throughout the twentieth century as solutions to congestion environmental threats architectural malaise and cultural anomie today they are often seen as sad pernicious or merely suburban wakeman shows that hundreds of such towns sprang from templates and designs not only in north america and across europe but around the world revealing how different cultures dreamed of re organizing themselves wakeman also illuminates the missteps and unanticipated results of the initial optimistic choices and impulses the most incisive texts on rem koolhaas oma the activities of rem koolhaas and his staff were widely discussed even before the foundation of the office for metropolitan architecture in 1975 today many contributions on the work of oma can be found in the international architectural press including koolhaas own writings the book contains about 150 selected texts interviews feature articles essays lead articles reviews letters introductions appraisals and competition reports that have been compiled for the first time this compilation not only provides a fresh and critical view of the oeuvre of one the most important contemporary architects but also represents an account of the debate on architectural and urban design in recent decades the most incisive texts on the work of oma rem koolhaas with many articles that have never before been translated into english an overview of notions ideas and debates in architectural discourse theory and criticism from the 1970s until 2000 that remain relevant today illustrated with more than 100 cover shoots what has happened to cities after the global economic recession sustaining cities answers this question by explaining how failed governmental policies contributed to urban problems and offering best practices for solving them from social scientists and urban planners to architects and literary and film critics the authors of this unique collection suggest real responses to this crisis could the drastic declines in housing markets have been avoided yes if we reframe our housing values do you want to attract corporate investment to your town you might want to think twice about doing so the extinction of the celtic tiger may be charted in statistics but the response in popular irish mystery novels is much more compelling china while not immune to market vicissitudes still booms but at a considerable cost to its urban identities whether constructing a sustainable social framework for mexican mega cities or a neighborhood in london these nine essays consider some strikingly similar strategies and perhaps as the contributors suggest it s time to look beyond the usual boundaries of urban suburban and exurban to forge new links among these communities that will benefit all citizens accessible to anyone with an interest in how cities cope today sustaining cities presents a cautionary tale with a hopeful ending this book is the first survey of a new field in architecture theory script writing rem koolhaas as scriptwriter explores the intersection of architecture film and text using the example of the working method of scriptwriter rem koolhaas and the office for metropolitan architecture oma this book argues that koolhaas formulates his approach to architecture on the basis of the written sketch or script and questions its transformations into built environment in the oeuvre of oma divided into two parts the first part is a theoretical outline that explores the notion of scriptwriting in film it provides in depth insights into the definition and historical evolution of the script as a blueprint hollywood script avant garde script storyboard the relation to auteur theory and the difference between the script and scenario it surveys the first original script for the exodus of the voluntary prisoners of architecture the second part offers a unique perspective on the urban development of west berlin in which koolhaas created a metropolitan script or blueprint that spans the period 1971 1989 from his first visit to berlin to the fall of the berlin
