challenging the success story of curiosity from original sin to intellectual virtue this study uses an innovative methodological approach to the history of ideas as a non teleological neural network based on current research in information technology and neurophysiology the network offers a dynamic alternative to the development of curiosity within the progress oriented mythology of the enlightenment emphasizing the oscillation and interaction of ideas within the processes of their construction as well as exposing the power relations behind them the text corpus focuses on enactments of curiosity in english literature of the long eighteenth century c 1680 1818 such as transgression of boundaries breach of taboo gendered curiosity sensationalism or academic endeavour bringing together a variety of examples from all major genres the age of curiosity contributes to current debates on a post foucauldian renewal of lovejoy s history of ideas in enlightenment studies exploring both curiosity as an indispensable trait for the search of answers to the fundamental yet unresolved questions of identity or truth and its potential as cura the care for others and the world

the trafalgar chronicle is the publication of choice for new research on the georgian era navy sometimes called nelson s navy its scope extends to the maritime world of 1714 to 1837 in this volume authors from five countries provide tales of adventure battles conquests and intrigue that span the world's oceans taking readers to the UK, the US, South America, Venice, France, the Caribbean, South Africa, and the Ionian Islands. The theme for this new series 9 is naval intelligence in the Georgian era. The contributions include two articles on the methods of gathering naval intelligence: one by author Steve Maffeo, who has written the definitive book on the subject, and two articles exploring how Nelson and Rodney respectively applied naval intelligence in their missions. Three articles about intelligence agents follow, including a featured monograph on Baron d'Imbert, a royalist spy during the French Revolutionary and Napoleonic Wars. Biographical portraits include a discussion of Duckworth's dilemma of choosing between his mission in the Caribbean and safeguarding the health of his men from the threat of yellow fever. The tale of Joshua Penny tells of a Royal Navy sailor who deserted and found refuge in a cave in South Africa. A third article documents the last survivors of the Battle of Trafalgar as they reached their final years. Five more articles of general interest cover a range of topics, including the parliamentary debates concerning the War of 1812, the cruise of the US frigate Essex, copper bottoms on Royal Navy ships, political wranglings in South America, and the origin of the name of Villeneuve's flagship Bucentaure. This richly illustrated, peer-reviewed scholarly journal of naval history is a must-read for all enthusiasts and historians of the Age of Sail. Well-written, well-researched, well-illustrated, this is a publication that will both delight and inform. A most enjoyable read. D.J. Paul in Naval Review. The chronicle is a wonderful collection of articles and a delight to dip into warship world.

This volume revisits the issue of language contact and conflict in the Low Countries across space and time. The contributions deal with important sites of Germanic Romance contact along the different language borders, covering languages such as French, Dutch, German, and Luxembourgish. This first monograph in English on the topic broadens our understanding of current-day issues by integrating a historical perspective showing how language contact and conflict operated from the Middle Ages and the Early Modern period, the 18th and 19th centuries, and into the 20th and 21st centuries.

Visualizing the data is an essential part of any data analysis. Modern computing developments have led to big improvements in graphic capabilities, and there are many new possibilities for data displays. This book gives an overview of modern data visualization methods, both in theory and practice. It details modern graphical tools such as mosaic plots, parallel coordinate plots, and linked views. Coverage also examines graphical methodology for particular areas of statistics, for example Bayesian analysis, genomic data, and cluster analysis, as well as software for graphics.

This book continues exploring the experiences, trials, and tribulations of both the journalist Romano, known here as the first man Adam, and his celestial guide Zarathustra, while they travel to the remaining Limboland arenas and Inferno, witnessing the horror of the afterworld with the contemptuous Devil and his swaggering three crown princes in their secret offices in the lowest infernal ring. Here, the disenchanted souls still struggle to survive with the interference of the narcissistic Devil, and without the influence of God's help. The remaining Limboland arenas include the Black Afrikan, the Primitives, Mini Limboland, the Russian Marxists, the Conspiracy Theorists, the Persians, the Ottoman Turks, the Filipino, Mini Limboland, and the Limbo.
