brussels and moscow it shows how neither the eu s nor russia s foreign policy articulation has changed substantially the interaction pattern continues to be an asymmetrical one with russia s articulations much more conditioned by the eu s discourse than vice versa the book thus argues that the eu is more independent in sovereignly articulating an interpretation of the world whereas russia continues to face constraints in the formulation of an autonomous political project with its novel and innovative conceptual framework this book furthers the theoretical scholarship on poststructuralism in international relations it addresses all scholars interested in poststructuralist enquiries and will be of great value to students and scholars of russian foreign policy and the eu
