in the late nineteenth century jewish scholars began to be interested in jesus and eventually paul as important figures in the history of the jewish people rightly understood they argued jesus and paul belonged more to judaism than to christianity as even radical critical christian scholars were concluding the earliest believers in jesus were exclusively jews forming something like a new sect within judaism the emergence of the christianity of the new testament soon became a focus of attention for jewish scholars and with this a host of questions arose such as about the influence of hellenism the parting of the ways the widespread christian misperception of judaism the tragedy of anti semitism and the identity of jesus as messiah and lord the present essays address these and other issues maintaining throughout the tension of continuity and discontinuity and stressing the underappreciated radical newness of the new testament a controversial new biography of the apostle paul that argues for his inclusion in the pantheon of key figures of classical antiquity as a biblical motif new creation resonates throughout the pages of the jewish and christian scriptures and occupies a central place in the apostle paul's vision of the christian life yet the biblical and extra biblical occurrences of this theme vary widely in meaning referring to either a new cosmos a new community or a new individual beginning with the old testament and working through the important texts of second temple judaism moyer v hubbard focuses on how the motif functions in the argument strategy and literary structure of these documents highlighting its role as the solution to the perceived plight he then explores in detail which senses of the term paul intends in galatians 6:15 and 2 corinthians 5:17 concluding that new creation in paul's letters describes the spirit wrought newness of the person in christ and is fundamentally anthropological in orientation most books about paul the apostle are long and very detailed and for many a potential reader a daunting prospect a short book about paul is deliberately brief but its brevity is not at the cost of accuracy we trace the main contours of paul's life which turn on the hinge of the singular event outside damascus in c. ad 34 from that time the leading persecutor of the disciples became the dedicated preacher of the message about jesus this short book shares with many the opinion that paul remains the most influential voice from greco-roman antiquity apart that is from the lord whose servant he was at the same time many critics have found fault with him especially from the time of the enlightenment paul's achievements were considerable between ad 47-56 he established a network of congregations in five roman provinces syria cilicia galatia macedonia achaia and asia his thirteen surviving letters are witnesses to his dedicated pastoral care of these tiny far-flung gatherings not to be missed was his remarkable skill in recruiting a small army of loyal coworkers like timothy luke and titus the result of paul's decade-long journeys in the provinces of anatolia and greece was the planting of the seeds of christianity that would develop into the official religion of the eastern roman empire based in constantinople discover the world's greatest thinkers and their groundbreaking notions too often textbooks turn the noteworthy theories principles and figures of philosophy into tedious discourse that even plato would reject philosophy 101 cuts out the boring details and exhausting philosophical methodology and instead gives you a lesson in philosophy that keeps you engaged as you explore the fascinating history of human thought and inquiry from aristotle and heidegger to free will and metaphysics philosophy 101 is packed with hundreds of entertaining philosophical tidbits illustrations and thought puzzles that you won't be able to find anywhere else so whether you're looking to unravel the mysteries of existentialism or just want to find out what made voltaire tick philosophy 101 has all the answers even the ones you didn't know you were looking for the apostle paul was the greatest early missionary of the christian gospel he was also by his own admission an israelite how can both these realities coexist in one individual this book argues that paul viewed his mission to the gentiles in and of itself as the primary expression of his jewish identity the concept of israel's divine vocation is used to shed fresh light on a number of much debated passages in paul's letter to the romans ancient iconography of paul is dominated by one image paul as martyr whether he is carrying a sword the traditional instrument of his execution or receiving a martyr's crown from christ the apostle was remembered and honored for his faithfulness to the point of death as a result christians created a cult of paul centered on particular holy sites and characterized by practices such as the telling of stories pilgrimage and the veneration of relics this study integrates literary archaeological artistic and liturgical evidence to describe the development of the pauline cult within the cultural context of the late antique west despite burlington's fame surprisingly little has been written about him lord burlington architecture art and life presents a modern reassessment of his career while setting him in a broader context than has usually been the case to reflect both his interests outside architecture and to present his character in the round architecture is given pride of place but his other interests in land owning politics and literature are also examined throwing much new light on an exceptionally significant and attractive figure what is god doing about a world marked by conflict and division what about a world in which our technologies promise great good but also threaten our existence what is god doing in a world where the demands for accumulation and acquisition create division and despair can christians hope to be of positive influence in a world that does not always support reflect or even understand christian commitments christian ethics often raises such questions as these and the possible answers vary widely paul's letter to the ephesians is a tremendous resource for exploring a faithful response to perhaps the toughest question of all what is god doing about evil the role of christian ethics is to take seriously the challenge that whatever god is doing god calls us to participate in a distinctive task that embraces our own commitments and labors within the divine purpose ephesians says that god has taken the initiative to pursue that purpose and remarkably offers that we ourselves are part of the answer to the question what is god doing about evil considering the importance of pneumatological themes for interpreting paul's argument of galatians grant buchanan explores how paul draws from jewish traditions of creation and the spirit and presents a fresh cosmogony to the galatian church he suggests that galatians outlines an epistemological shift in how paul sees past present and future reality in light of christ and the presence of the spirit in the lives of the believers the most crucial aspect of this new cosmogony is the centrality of the spirit in paul's argument in galatians 3:1-6, 17 with buchanan's exegesis revealing that the spirit the galatians' identity as children of god and the new creation motif are not merely elements of paul's argument but intrinsic to it buchanan demonstrates that paul renders jewish and gentile identities no longer valid instead revealing that god's favour and election is already with them by stating that those who have the promised spirit are all children of god he examines jewish biblical and second temple extra biblical texts that explicitly connect the spirit to creation themes including genesis ezekiel the dead sea scrolls and the wisdom of solomon taking galatians 6:11-17 as the body closing of the letter the new creation motif directly implies the activity of the spirit in the creation of christian identity analysing 6 15 from this pneumatological perspective buchanan argues that the new creation motif represents a key aspect of paul s generative cosmogony and pneumatology indicating a far broader socio cosmic transformation than previously assumed and it becomes a key to understanding paul s argument this study argues for the recovery of trust as a central theme in christian theology and offers the first theology of trust in the new testament displaying trust between god christ and humanity as a risky dynamic forward looking life changing partnership in this careful and provocative study chad thornhill considers how second temple understandings of election influenced key pauline texts with sensitivity to social historical and literary factors while paul is able to move beyond ancient categories of a collective view of election thornhill shows how he also follows these patterns for fifty years the progressive coleman fulton pasture company popularly known as the taft ranch led in the development of south texas and in the early twentieth century achieved national and international reput for its contributions to agriculture the story of the ranch reaches its climax as the firm is absorbed into the community growing up around it the same community the ranch had nurtured to an unprecedented prosperity in 1961 a ray stephens visited taft texas and received permission to use the dust covered records which for thirty years had been closed to historians these records plus the valuable supplementary material in the fulton collection at the university of texas have enabled the author to tell the complete story of the ranch from its inception in 1880 to its dissolution in 1930 in 1880 with a fifty year charter the coleman fulton pasture company was legally born as a private corporation for the duration of its history this company aided the advancement of south texas through effective utilization of the fertile land through development of agriculture and related industries and through encouragement of settlers and curious visitors to the coastal bend region its history is a long determined fight against severe drought cattle disease and financial insolvency guided by farsighted men who believed in experimentation in agriculture and who also promoted the establishment of stores schools colleges churches and industrial plants the company not only survived but prospered and by 1920 its owners could survey their vast properties with well earned satisfaction the struggling cattle firm of 1880 had expanded into a multi interest profitable corporation that had established and supervised most of the industries in taft texas stephens well documented 1964 study had been long needed during the three decades preceding it the ranch had been well nigh forgotten only the handful of people then still living who had worked on the ranch had kept its memory fresh while the voluminous company records remained inaccessible the author supplemented his study of company records and newspapers with archival material government records and information obtained during hours of interviewing his book will insure for the taft ranch its deservedly prominent position in texas history the lively introduction was written by joe b frantz 1917 1993 who in his role of professor of history at the university of texas encouraged the study and watched its development
