beginning with an overview of warren s career as a fugitive at vanderbilt and then later as a formidable new critic koppelman argues that warren s regard for the spiritual aesthetic of both literary language and form can be traced to his early study of poetic metaphor to illustrate warren s mature vision koppelman centers his study on two novels and two poetry collections all the king s men a place to come to promises poems 1954 1956 and now and then poems 1976 1978 he also examines the critical studies that concentrate on warren s vision of time history and spiritual fulfillment as well as those essays by warren that complement his poems and novels in such a way as to elicit the reader s participation in the redemption of their narrators using a largely chronological approach charlotte beck has carefully traced the evolution of warren s criticism focusing on seminal examples of the critical books essays and introductions that warren produced over a period of almost seventy years her conclusions often run counter to previous evaluations of warren s criticism especially to those that complacently link warren to cleanth brooks his lifelong friend and collaborator and to new criticism in general beck demonstrates that warren consistently treats writers holistically taking into account biographical as well as historical data to account for their entire body of work rather than focusing on a single literary text jacket
