sergei zhukov was graduated from st petersburg university in leningrad russia and wanted to be a physicist however world war ii was just starting and the germans were on the russian doorstep during a college project he had developed a long range bear hunting rifle and the russian army was interested in him and his ability to develop an even longer range sniper rifle he did so and the army high command commissioned him to go out and follow the german ss panzer divisions that were invading russia and shoot as many of their high ranking officers as possible he was very successful in three years he was in many engagements some lasting only one day and others lasting many months he and his spotter and two wolf dogs lived off the land any way they could to survive the german ss sent out hunters after him on many occasions the german ss had also put an extremely large ever growing bounty on him his response was to send back the bounty posters to the ss division commanders attached to the well chewed ss hunters with a message the eye of the wolf is upon you he became an enigma to the german ss and a folk hero to the russians his missions started at the poland russia border and went on to moscow he was then sent to the crimea then stalingrad he then went back north to leningrad and each time he engaged the german ss panzer divisions linda greef is the girl that had her life stolen a beautiful young student who s kindness lands her in a dark world where she would experience the harsh realities of the sex industry in stolen life author chris norris writes a spine chilling story based on the life experiences of andre and hannes two young soldiers of fortune lindi goosen and melinda pienaar are two detectives in the south african police force that heads a unit to solve and stop the hideous crime of human trafficking in the republic this part of the world has become a haven for criminals from all over the world corruption and money will offer you the opportunity to prey on the weak and the most vulnerable slavery was part of the history that shaped africa and now it has returned only this time the victims are young girls searching for a better life this will highlight how society indulges in the oldest profession the difference is that the victims are not faceless and they have become a part of the growing number of young people trapped in sex slavery and trafficking the question that needs answering is one of what will society do will we allow evil to prevail or will we act quick and decisively this volume investigates the horror genre across national boundaries including locations such as africa turkey and post soviet russia and different media forms illustrating the ways that horror can be theorized through the circulation reception and production of transnational media texts perhaps more than any other genre horror is characterized by its ability to be simultaneously aware of the local while able to permeate national boundaries to function on both regional and international registers the essays here explore political models and allegories questions of cult or subcultural media and their distribution practices the relationship between regional or cultural networks and the legibility of international horror iconography across distinct media the book underscores how a discussion of contemporary international horror is not only about genre but about how genre can inform theories of visual cultures and the increasing permeability of their borders although the word vampire was not introduced until the eighteenth century variations of this hemo craving creature have existed since long before the christian era almost every civilization had a demon or spirit often a god or goddess whose bloodlust complicated things for the general populace but sometimes it s not all about the blood modern vampire tales have stronger willed and less traditional beings at their core beings who strive to coexist with mortals by drinking synthetic blood like true blood s bill compton or who sparkle in the daylight instead of disintegrating like twilight s edward cullen plus these guys are way easier on the eyes than the more old school vampires out there especially filmmaker f w murnau s infamous nosferatu a terrifying vampire in dire need of a manicure regardless of time place and blood type laura enright cordially invites you into the dark underworld of the vampire she sheds light but not too much on this captivating age defying creature by exploring topics ranging from the powers it can possess to what will kill it for good with close to thirty top ten lists brimming with gore and fang tastic facts vampires most wanted is sure to provide the reader with a biting good time
