knowing your story is an essential component of effective leadership but finding your story among the myriad narratives that fill your life isn't a simple task. Richard L. Hester and Kelli Walker Jones have offered a path to finding your own story amid the powerful family and cultural narratives that may be obscuring your vision. The aim of this book is to show leaders how to explore their story of reality, tell it to other group members, and consider how it can be used as a resource for leadership. This narrative perspective holds that because there's always more than one story about a situation, we have choices about which story we will embrace. After more than six years working with groups of clergy, the authors have woven these stories together to create the fabric that is the backdrop of narrative clergy leadership. The book is an account of their pilgrimage; as you read, you will have a sense that this is your pilgrimage, and it will encourage you into narrative ventures of your own.

A toolbox overflowing with ideas that will help every staff developer craft a school culture hospitable to adult and student learning. Roland S. Barth, author, Lessons Learned: The book speaks to many audiences, including instructional coaches, PLC leaders, action researchers, and group leaders, and university professors working with action researchers and PLCs. Gail Ritchie, co-leader, Teacher Researcher Network, Fairfax County Public Schools, VA, a terrific resource for connecting teacher networks and action research to create powerful professional development opportunities. This book is a joy to read. Ellen Meyers, senior vice president, Teachers Network, powerful tools for facilitating teachers' professional development and optimizing school improvement efforts. Professional learning communities, PLCs, and action research are popular and proven frameworks for professional development, while both can greatly improve teaching and learning. Few resources have combined the two practices into one coherent approach. The Reflective Educator's Guide to Professional Development provides educators with strategies, activities, and tools to develop inquiry-oriented PLCs. Nationally known school reform experts Nancy Fichtman Dana and Diane Yendol-Hoppey cover the ten essential elements of a healthy PLC, provide case studies of actual inquiry-based PLCs, and present lessons learned to help good coaches become great coaches. With this step-by-step guide, readers will be able to organize, assess, and maintain high-functioning inquiry-oriented PLCs, facilitate the development of study questions, establish the trust and collective commitment necessary for successful action research, enable PLC members to develop, analyze, and share research results, lead successful renewal and reform efforts by combining two powerful training practices. Coaches, workshop leaders, and staff developers can ensure continuous, robust school-based professional development.
