the legacy of pauline scholarship from ancient to modern is characterised by a surfeit of unsettled conflicting conclusions that often fail to interpret paul in relation to his jewish roots william s campbell takes a stand against this paradigm emphasising continuity between judaism and the christ movement in paul s letters campbell focusses on important themes such as diversity identity and reconciliation as the basic components of transformation in christ the stance from which paultheologises is one that recognises and underpins social and cultural diversity and includes the correlating demand that because difference is integral to the christ movement the enmity associated with difference cannot be tolerated thus reconciliation emerges as a fundamental value in the christ movement reconciliation in this sense respects and does not negate the particularities of the identity of jews and those from the nations in this paradigm transformation implies the re evaluation of all things in christ whether of jewish or gentile origin
